

Being Together: the Call to Relationship

Faith at Work weekend for couples Oct 20-22, 2006

Come away with your loved one for a time of rest and renewal of your call to be in relationship. We'll listen deeply and provide a chance to talk and learn. We'll honor each individual's gifts, and affirm the unique call you as a couple have in the world. We'll look backwards at our lives for some traces of the Spirit's tracks, and look ahead to what we are co-creating with each other and with God. This weekend is not designed as therapy but could be therapeutic. The leaders with good, but not perfect marriages will come to both give and receive ways to grow.

Between the four of them, the leaders have 55 years of marriage, two divorces, one spouse's death, a love of music, several careers, 4 kids, 1 dog and 2 cats, and much joy for the journey of relationship.

You can expect:

- plenty of free time to walk, talk, sleep, connect, be in community
- 250 beautiful acres of retreat center land
- small group time
- good meals and double beds
- to be surprised by the Spirit

I can't be and do
what you are and do.
You can't be and do
what I am and do.
Together we can do
amazing things.
